You will be going straight for a long while once leaving Geneva.

Your first turn will be in Celigny.

📍 Switzerland's most famous vineyards are on these shores

Don't worry about getting lost on this first day out. You're going to be following the lake the whole way except for a few moments when you'll veer off to the west towards the Jura mountains.

Follow the Ride With GPS track which will take you down La Route Suisse. This is a busy road, but there is a dedicated bike path on the right and it will allow you to go fast and stretch your legs. At around 16 km you'll see signs for the village of Celigny and you'll need to turn left. At this point the countryside becomes more interesting. You'll reach Celigny after a kilometer or two. This is a good place for your first coffee/bathroom break.

We recommend stopping in Rolle for lunch. Stop at the Migros or Coop grocery store (or a bakery) on Rolle's main street to buy picnic supplies. Then look for the fountain on the main street. Across from the fountain, you will see an arched pathway leading through to the lake. If you follow the lake (away from the chateau) you will find a few places to eat (grass, tables, water, etc). You will also find a café with a large terrass. There are bathrooms just inside. As always, the lunch spot that we recommend is indicated on the application with a picnic table.

📍 St. Prex is worth a visit. Explore the port !

St. Prex: is an easy-to-miss village on your itinerary just before Morges. It's worth a stroll. Also a great place for a swim.

Morges is a delightful, flower-decked town of 14,000 inhabitants. It occupies a privileged position on the shores of Lake Geneva, opposite the majestic Mont-Blanc. Our hotel is on the main pedestrian street and there is an outdoor market just outside every Saturday morning. There are lots of restaurants to choose from. For a good view of the lake, eat at the sailing club restaurant at the port. For something special, the Morges Casino is excellent.
